Dear Sir:

It's a great pleasure to write you, in order to greet you respectfully and at the same time communicate you that this Cusco Women's Penitentiary Establishment is developing the Peace Education Program successfully, which seeks to develop positive attitudes in our inmates that is a strong support to our work with the inmates. I am writing to express to you that we know that you are coming to the city of Cusco in the next month of June, and all the inmates have expressed their deep desire to see you in person and are asking you to please visit this prison.

For this reason, we hope that you could consider this invitation within your busy agenda and could come and visit our Institution. You deserve our admiration to teach us that Peace is Possible, and your message has reached the heart of people and even more so where people are deprived their liberty.

We really hope you can accept this invitation and confirm us your visit. I take advantage to this occasion to express you my special distinction.

Sincerely yours
